Grown-up guide

Learning objective

Practise respectful boundaries, disagreement, apology and repair in everyday peer situations.

Use this pack well

- Model the first example aloud, then let the learner try.
- Ask “How do you know?” more often than “Are you finished?”.
- Use real objects, talk, movement or observation when the activity suggests it.
- Stop or shorten the session if attention or enjoyment drops.
- Open-ended pages can have many successful answers.

Quality note

This resource was written originally for BrightPencil Kids. Curriculum sources informed scope and progression only; no third-party worksheet or story text is reproduced.

Learn the idea

1 A boundary communicates what is okay/not okay for a person.

2 Respectful disagreement can preserve relationships.

3 Repair involves acknowledgement and changed action, not only saying sorry.

Talk about it

Explain one idea in your own words. Give an example from real life, a drawing or an object if that helps.

Choose a respectful “no” statement.

Respond appropriately when someone asks you to stop.

Summarise another viewpoint before disagreeing.

Write a repair plan after damaging shared work.

Identify a conflict that should involve a trusted adult.

Try it beyond the page

Real-world / hands-on connection

Role-play a low-stakes fictional disagreement with an adult/teacher using listen - state - solve - repair.

Before you finish

What did you notice?

What evidence, object or example helped you?

What would you change if you tried again?

Create something

Your project

Create a dialogue comic showing a boundary respected and a repair completed.

Use this space for planning, drawing, mapping, designing or notes.

CHALLENGE

Think deeper

1. What evidence shows progress or a thoughtful decision?

2. Who can support this skill when needed?

3. What is one specific next step?

Quick review

1. In one sentence, explain the big idea of “Friendship, Boundaries & Repair”.

2. Draw or write one example that shows you understand.

3. Choose one activity from this pack and explain the strategy you used.

4. Write one question you still have.

Answer & discussion notes

Use these as guidance, not scripts. Open questions can have different successful responses when the reasoning is sensible and evidence-based.

1. Suggested response

Use a concrete example rather than a ranking.

2. Suggested response

A trusted adult/teacher/caregiver or appropriate professional.

3. Suggested response

The next step should be observable and achievable.

Review before publication
